Senate Private Sponsor Travel Certification Form – Addendum

Trip: Congressional Staff Tour - CDC Global Health Programs

August 5-6, 2018

1. Sponsors of the trip:

In addition to ASTMH and GHC: Infectious Diseases Society of America (IDSA) PATH/ Global Health Technologies Coalition (GHTC)

5. Name and title of Senate invitees:

Kimberly Miller-Tolbert, Legislative Assistant, Sen. Cory Booker

Maria Paula Ramos, Legislative Aide, Sen. Marco Rubio

12. Briefly describe the role of each sponsor in organizing and conducting the trip:

ASTMH is assisting with the other cosponsors on the logistics and agenda for this trip. The ASTMH Executive Director will accompany Congressional staff on the trip.

GHC is assisting with the other cosponsors on trip logistics, the agenda and other materials, and the Congressional travel forms. GHC's Senior Manager for Policy and Advocacy will accompany Congressional staff on the trip.

IDSA is assisting with other cosponsors on trip logistics, and is serving as the lead on preparing required materials for Congressional travel forms. IDSA's Public Health Program Officer will accompany Congressional staff on the trip.

PATH is serving as the lead organization coordinating invites to Congressional staff, and is also helping with developing content and logistics. PATH's Policy Officer will accompany Congressional staff on the trip. GHTC is not a separate legal entity and its secretariat is housed within PATH. PATH employees designated to support GHTC are taking the lead in coordinating with CDC staff on the program agenda as well as agency-level approvals. GHTC's Director will accompany Congressional staff on the trip.

13. Briefly describe the stated mission of each sponsor and how the purpose of the trip relates to that mission.

. medicine and global health research. This trip aligns with the mission of ASTMH.

GHC is a nonprofit 501c3 organization. It is the leading membership organization supporting and connecting advocates, implementers and stakeholders seeking to improve global health and wellbeing through informed investments and policies. This trip advances this mission.

IDSA is a non-profit 501c6 organization. It represents more than 11,000 physicians and scientists working in infectious diseases responses and research in the U.S. and globally. IDSA supports a policy education program about US leadership in global infectious diseases responses and research & development. This trip advances that mission.

PATH is a nonprofit 501c3 organization. It is a large global health NGO that uses entrepreneurial insight, scientific and public health expertise, and partnerships with U.S. agencies and private sector partners to develop much-needed health products and help countries, primarily in Africa and Asia, tackle their greatest health needs. Part of PATH's work includes working with CDC to develop new vaccines, drugs, diagnostics and devices, while at the same time advocating for CDC's role in global health more broadly. GHTC is a coalition group of over 25 organizations with its secretariat housed within PATH, and is not a separate legal entity. GHTC brings together nonprofit organizations, academic institutions, and businesses to advance policies to accelerate the creation of new drugs, vaccines, diagnostics and other tools. PATH staff designated to support GHTC carry out the operational, administrative, and financial systems needs of GHTC. PATH also provides and maintains overall GHTC focus, direction, and cohesion through priority setting, operational decision-making, and advancing collaboration as well as action among members and partners. PATH leads all decision-making on GHTC's priorities, policy input, and public statements to advance GHTC's objectives. This trip advances the mission of PATH, especially as it relates to the work of GHTC.

14. Briefly describe each sponsor's prior history of sponsoring congressional trips:

PATH/GHTC served as one of several co-sponsors of a Congressional trip in 2016 to educate staffers about tuberculosis (TB) including multi-drug TB as well as research and development efforts to mitigate TB.

IDSA has not previously sponsored a Congressional trip.

15. Briefly describe the educational activities performed by each sponsor (other than sponsoring congressional trips)

GHC educates on the importance of sound, strong global health policies and resources. Educational activities include discussion forums for its members, which includes NGOs, academia, and the private sector, as well as publications geared towards educating its members and the public.

IDSA educates about evidenced-based policies and programs related to global infectious diseases. IDSA sponsors conferences, including IDWeek, and publishes a widely-read news blog and issue briefs on global infectious diseases.

PATH engages in a number of educational activities on a variety of global health topics. GHTC works to educate about the impact and value of global health research and development through the publication of research reports and articles on global health R&D, sponsorship of conferences, and providing statements at the World Health Assembly.

21. Describe the type and class of transportation being provided. Indicate whether coach, business-class or first class transportation will be provided. If first-class fare is being provided, please explain why first-class travel is necessary:

...roundtrip taxi service between the airport in Atlanta and the Emory Conference Center Hotel will be provided. The Emory Conference Center Hotel provides to all guests complimentary shuttle service from the hotel to the CDC campus.
